

God's Chayil Women

Moving Beyond Tradition to Embrace Truth and God-given Purpose

by K.P. Taylor

NEW RELEASE APRIL 2014

Timely book provides a powerful and persuasive biblical case for women in ministry.

God's Chayil Women presents a thoughtful analysis and passionate argument not only for God's approval of women in ministry, but for the particular aspect of God's character women were chosen to represent. The church has dramatically undervalued women and the vital contributions they stand poised to make. Debunking gender stereotypes and myths about women as well as carefully deconstructing common interpretations of controversial passages leaves little room for doubt. This unique look at God's original intent and high regard for His daughters will provoke lasting change in the way the church views women, and more importantly, how women view themselves.

Refreshing and compelling, God's Chayil Women demonstrates the church's need for women as fully included partners laboring for the harvest. The author challenges unscriptural mindsets, inviting the church to strive for maturity and true koinonia. Solidly biblical with a prophetic edge, readers will encounter a bold and dramatic biblical appeal for the restoration of women to places of authority in the church. With doubt and fear removed, women can experience freedom to run their races wholeheartedly, unhindered by traditional restrictions.

Are you searching for solid, biblical answers about women in ministry? God's Chayil Women provides those answers, building a solid case for God's approval of women and the necessity of their inclusion in all levels of ministry for the church to reach maturity and true koinonia.

Title God's Chayil Women
Subtitle Moving Beyond Tradition to Embrace Truth and God-given Purpose
Author K.P. Taylor
Publisher Doulos Books
Distribution Spring Arbor/Ingram
ISBN 978-0-9838102-1-6
LCCN 2014904249
CIP No
Publication Date April 2014
Size 6 X 9
Page Count 272
Format Paperback
List Price USD $17.99

About the Author K.P. Taylor has over four decades of lay ministry experience in various denominational, non-denominational, home mission, and Messianic congregations. She has a burden to see every believer walk in his or her God-given calling and for God's truth to be honored in the church. Her heart's desire is to walk with God as Enoch did, becoming part of the nameless and faceless generation of believers who help equip the bride for Jesus' return.

She and her husband of twenty-six years live in South Dakota where they are raising their six children.

DOULOS BOOKS is family owned and operated. We exist to provide quality resources to equip and prepare the body of Christ for the days ahead.

God's Chayil Women is also available at Amazon.com and BarnesandNoble.com